1982 MEDIA GUIDE

Veterans Stadium

The Eagles have called Veterans Stadium home since 1971 after previous stops at Municipal (now J.F.K.) Stadium, Connie Mack Stadium and Franklin Field. In their history, the Birds have also played home games at the Baker Bowl, Temple University Stadium, and Pittsburgh's Forbes Field during the 1943 season.

Veterans Stadium, known throughout the country as "the Vet," is one of the finest multi-purpose sports facilities in the country. Built on a 74-acre site in South Philadelphia, it is the gem of a sports complex that also includes a recreational park, mammoth J.F.K. Stadium which the Eagles still use for practice, and the Spectrum indoor arena, home of the Philadelphia Flyers and 76ers.

The Vet, which opened during the Phillies' 1971 season, was built at a cost in excess of $50 million. The Eagles, 76ers and Phillies maintain their executive offices in the stadium and it also serves as the home of the annual Army-Navy game.

The first Eagles' game at the Vet took place on August 16, 1971 when they downed the Buffalo Bills in a preseason encounter, 34-28. The first championship season win came at the expense of the New York Giants, 23-7, on October 24, 1971.

In 11 previous seasons at Veterans Stadium, the Eagles have compiled a 46-37-1 regular season record, including 6-2 last year. The seating capacity for football is 72,204 and the field is astro-turf, installed in the spring of 1982.

EAGLES' OUTLOOK

In the past four seasons, only Dallas and Pittsburgh have won more games than the Eagles but last year's 10-6 finish was still somewhat disappointing as a follow-up to 1980's 12-4 NFC championship performance. Despite the less impressive finish, coach Dick Vermeil evaluated last year's squad as better than the one that played in Super Bowl XV.

"We were a better football team but everyone evaluates whether you were a better football team on the basis of wins and losses," said Vermeil. "Just like I said last year at this time, we can be a better football team and not win as many games. For us to keep getting better on a win-loss basis and not just on a team basis, we have to upgrade our overall caliber of athlete with the top draft choices. They've made a tremendous difference in the last few years here. Two of them have been in the Pro Bowl."

Vermeil was speaking of linebacker Jerry Robinson and cornerback Roynell Young, two players who helped the Birds rank as the NFL's best defense last year when they limited opponents to league lows of 221 points and 277.9 yards of total offense per game. After building the league's stingiest defense with top draft choices, Vermeil opted to help the offense in the 1982 draft when the Birds selected four wide receivers, two tight ends and two offensive tackles with eight of their 11 choices. The coach is hopeful that top draftee Mike Quick, a wideout from North Carolina State, and second rounder Lawrence Sampleton, a tight end from Texas, can make immediate contributions to an offense that was effective but not particularly explosive last year when the Birds led the NFC East in scoring with 368 points.

Wilbert Montgomery and Ron Jaworski remain the keystones of the Eagles' attack. Montgomery was healthy for most of 1981 and the results were predictable. He rushed for 1,402 yards, 4th best in the league, and caught 49 passes for 491 additional yards. "He is the Eagles' best football player," says Vermeil. Depth behind Montgomery is provided by Billy Campfield, a sure-handed receiver out of the backfield, and versatile Louie Giammona, a 1981 victim of knee miseries. Young Calvin Murray and former Packer Steve Atkins are other halfback candidates.

The returning starter at fullback is Hubie Oliver, a 10th round draft surprise last year who took over when injuries ended the seasons of previous starters Leroy Harris and Perry Harrington. Those two will return to compete with Oliver along with veteran short yardage specialist Booker Russell.

Quarterback Jaworski couldn't match his 1980 statistical performance when he was the NFC's top-rated passer, but he still threw for 3,095 yards last year and 23 touchdowns and has won more games as a starter than anyone with the exception of Pittsburgh's Terry Bradshaw since 1978. Joe Pisarcik returns as a seasoned backup.

Harold Carmichael remains Jaworski's favorite target after catching 61 passes for 1,028 yards and eight touchdowns in his 10th NFL campaign. Ex-Ram and Charger Ron Smith is the early choice to start at the other wideout spot although vets Rodney Parker, Wally Henry and Alvin Hooks also return. Joining first pick Quick in the competition will be 6th choice Curt Grieve, 9th rounder Tony Woodruff and 11th pick Ron Ingram.

John Spagnola is expected to replace the departed Keith Krepfle at tight end although Sampleton and 3rd round pick Vyto Kab have the respective speed and bulk to also be factors there. Steve Folsom is a returning reserve at the position.

The offensive line that opened the way for the second best rushing season in club history and allowed only 22 sacks features a good blend of youth and experience. Pro Bowler Jerry Sisemore at right tackle and All-NFC center Guy Morriss anchor a forward wall that includes 11th year offensive tackle Stan Walters and a pair of young guards, Steve Kenney and Ron Baker. Pete Perot, a 1980 starter at left guard, returns to compete for his old job as does last year's number two pick, Dean Miraldi, who spent the entire season on the injured reserve list. Center Chuck Commiskey, last year's 9th choice, also returns from injured reserve while this year's draft produced tackles Jim Fritzsche and Rob Taylor on the 8th and 12th rounds, respectively. Tackle Frank Giddens and center Mark Slater are returning backups and the latter snaps in punting situations.

Defensively, the Eagles feature four Pro Bowlers in their starting lineup and that should guarantee that the Birds will again be a contender in possibly the league's most competitive division, the NFC East.

"It will be tough for the defense to duplicate the stats of last year," says Vermeil, "although I do believe that, barring injury, we can improve our overall defensive performance because we have enough positions that can be played better by our returning veterans."

The strong defensive line is anchored by three-time Pro Bowl starter Charlie Johnson at nose tackle and on the outside by right end Carl Hairston, a solid veteran who is still awaiting the recognition that Vermeil feels he deserves. The returning left end, Dennis Harrison, is expected to be challenged by last year's number one draft choice, Leonard Mitchell, whose rookie development was slowed by injuries. Also expected to mount a strong starting bid at nose tackle is five-year vet Ken Clarke. The Eagles used a 7th round draft choice to select SMU nose tackle Harvey Armstrong. Quick defensive end Greg Brown was a 1981 free agent find as a pass rush specialist and should be improved after gaining a year of playing experience.

The deep and talented linebacker corps got a "best ever" season last year on the inside from Pro Bowler Frank LeMaster, whose 133 total tackles tied fellow inside backer Al Chesley for team honors. At right outside linebacker, Jerry Robinson played well enough to be voted into his first Pro Bowl game while vets John Bunting and Reggie Wilkes are expected to compete for 1982 starting honors after splitting time there in 1981. Ray Phillips returns as a valued reserve along with young Mike Curcio while the draft produced Anthony Griggs from Ohio State on the 4th round. Veteran Steve Wagner will again try to convert to linebacker from strong safety after spending all of last year on the injured reserve list.

Roynell Young, a starter in the Pro Bowl after his second season, heads a secondary that ranks among the best. A solid run defender, he also picked off four passes, one less than team leader Brenard Wilson, the free safety and the leading tackler among defensive backs. Herman Edwards at the right corner is recognized as one of the league's best pass defenders and Randy Logan, starting his 10th campaign, steadies the unit at strong safety. Second year man Ray Ellis could also be a factor there. Additional depth is provided by cornerback Richard Blackmore, safety John Sciarra and 5th round draft pick Dennis Devaughn.

The kicking and punting games are solid with the return of Max Runager and Tony Franklin. Franklin kicked for 101 points and converted 19 of 27 field goal attempts last year inside of 50 yards and Runager enjoyed his best season, averaging 40.7 yards with a net punting average of 34.9. The Eagles hope to improve on kickoff and punt returns in 1982 after an inconsistent 1981.

"I'd like to believe that we can continue to be a better football team but when I say that I leave myself wide open from past experience because everyone evaluates whether you're a better football team on the basis of wins and losses," sums up Vermeil. "Your record is many times determined by your schedule and our schedule will again be difficult. Barring injuries, I can't see us being anything but better but with the schedule we play, you just never know."

LEONARD H. TOSE

Owner and President

Entering his 14th season as the chief executive officer of the Eagles, Leonard H. Tose has already held that position longer than anyone in the 50-year history of the franchise.

Tose purchased the Eagles for a sum in excess of $16 million in 1969, but his support of the team as a fan and season ticket holder began years before that. His interest in football was nurtured, quite naturally, at the University of Notre Dame, where he was a member of the class of 1937. He has maintained close ties with his alma mater through the years and served on the alumni association's board of directors from 1969 to 1972.

After college and service with the Army's military police, Leonard joined the family trucking business founded by his Russian immigrant father, the late Mike Tose, in his hometown of Bridgeport, Pa. He began working for the company as a truck driver and eventually became chairman of the board. While the trucking and various other business interests occupied much of his time, the Eagles and the National Football League have remained his primary concern during his 13 years as owner. Leonard currently serves on two of the most important executive committees within the NFL structure, the Management Council and NFL Films.

The Eagles' rise to the upper echelon of the NFL is a direct result of Tose's philosophy of hiring competent personnel and then giving them the support they need to get the job done. His administrative expertise was recognized publicly in 1980 when he was named pro football's Man of the Year by the Football News after the Eagles won the NFC championship and appeared in Super Bowl XV. The Eagles' loss in that game only made Leonard more determined to return to football's ultimate showcase and to come out on top.

"There was a time when I said if we ever went to the Super Bowl I'd probably get out," he commented prior to Super Bowl XV. "Now I can see where you might want to do it two or three times."

While coach Dick Vermeil builds the Eagles into a contender on the field, Tose provides the necessary management support, working to solve small problems before they become major ones and providing the "football people" in the organization the tools they have used to build the team into one of the winningest in the NFL over the past four seasons.

Tose's social consciousness and philanthropy are well known in Philadelphia and he feels a strong kinship with the football fans who remained loyal to the Eagles through some lean years. Foremost among the institutions which have benefitted from his generosity is the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia. Former Eagles' tight end Fred Hill, whose daughter Kim was afflicted with leukemia at the time, began a program called Eagles Fly for Leukemia in 1973. Happy that Hill's teammates rallied to the cause, Tose responded by guaranteeing to absorb all administrative costs of the program and by the completion of the 1982 season, nearly $2 million will have been generated for Children's Hospital in an ongoing program.

Leonard has also lent his financial and administrative support to the high school football programs in the city of Philadelphia. His personal donation of $79,000 in 1971 helped insure the survival of the sport in the city's public high school league when monetary problems threatened its existence and in 1975, his contribution helped establish the Philadelphia City All-Star Football Game to showcase the talents of inner-city players for coaches and scouts from the college level.

"I feel a responsibility to this city, I always have," Leonard says. "These fans supported us when we were winning two games a year and if you don't have feelings for people like that, what kind of man would you be?" The many people and organizations who have benefitted from his generosity know what kind of man Tose is.

JIM MURRAY

General Manager

Jim Murray began his career in professional sports as a minor league baseball executive and entered the NFL as a public relations man, but in the eight years since being appointed general manager by Eagles' owner Leonard Tose, he has played a major role in helping the Birds become one of the most solid teams in football.

In naming him to his current position five years after he joined the organization as assistant director of public relations, Tose recognized perhaps Murray's most prominent quality, his loyalty. "One of the best things I ever did was hire Jimmy," Tose said in 1981 as the Eagles prepared for Super Bowl XV. "He may not have been what other people wanted, but he had two things that count: brains, and a sincere concern for people. And what a friend!"

Murray, 44, is a native Philadelphian and a graduate of this city's West Catholic High School and nearby Villanova University. Immediately after graduation from that school in 1960 he went to work for the Tidewater Tides of baseball's Sally League.

After a stint of active duty in the Marine Corps Reserve, he returned to baseball as assistant general manager of the Atlanta Crackers, an affiliate of the St. Louis Cardinals. Murray left baseball in 1964 to enter the restaurant business, first in Atlanta and then in Malibu, Cal. Two years later he returned to a sports career as sports information director at Villanova under his friend and mentor, athletic director Art Mahan.

Three years later he joined the Eagles' public relations staff and in 1971 he became an administrative assistant with increased responsibilities. Murray's P.R. background puts him in the company of numerous NFL executives, including commissioner Pete Rozelle.

During his 13 years with the Eagles, Murray has assumed leadership roles in a number of community projects. He helped establish the very successful Eagles Fly for Leukemia campaign and has played a leading role in helping to persuade many of his peers in the NFL to become involved with the unique Ronald McDonald House concept begun in Philadelphia in 1974. McDonald Houses provide temporary residences, at little or no costs, for the families of children undergoing treatment for various illnesses at nearby hospitals.

Jim has also been an active supporter of football on the high school and college levels. In the early 1970's he served as color analyst and executive producer of Villanova University's football network and he has been an advisor to the Philadelphia City All-Star High School Football Game which has helped more than 200 student-athletes receive college scholarship aid since 1975.

In 1979, Murray served as sports chairman of the annual fund-raising drive of the Fellowship Commission of Philadelphia, a human rights organization dedicated to strengthening people-to-people relationships. On a personal level, that is what Murray does almost every day of his life.

"This sport, because of its intensity, makes a team vulnerable to situations that might upset the tempo," he says. "One letdown and you might be out of it. I try to put myself in the shoes of the players, the coaches, the owner and the fans. Sure, it's a great deal of pressure, but I also feel that I'm the luckiest guy in the world."

That feeling is also evident in Jim's personal life. He and his wife, Diane, are the parents of five children: Karin, 23; Amy, 14; Jimmy Joe, 12; Brian, 11 and John Paul, 3. The Murrays reside in Rosemont, Pa.

DICK VERMEIL

Head Coach

In the process of word association, only a few coaches in the National Football League come immediately to mind when their teams are mentioned. Say Miami Dolphins, and Don Shula is probably the first person one thinks of. The same goes for the Dallas Cowboys and Tom Landry, the Pittsburgh Steelers and Chuck Noll and now, the Philadelphia Eagles and Dick Vermeil.

In terms of longevity with the club and total victories, Vermeil already ranks second in the Eagles' record book to Hall of Fame coach Earle "Greasy" Neale. Neale, who coached in Philadelphia for 10 seasons between 1941 and 1950, compiled a 66-44-5 overall record and two NFL championships. Vermeil, after only six seasons, has guided the Birds to a 54-45 mark and four consecutive playoff appearances since 1978. In that four-year span, only Dallas (47-17) and Pittsburgh (43-21) have bettered Philadelphia's 42-22 regular season record.

Vermeil has been a winner on every level of coaching, from his first high school head coaching assignment in 1960 through the junior and major college ranks and on to the NFL.

Dick was born in Calistoga, Cal. on October 30, 1936 and grew up in that town nestled in the Napa Valley wine country of northern California. His dedication to football began when he starred at quarterback (and in three other sports) at tiny Calistoga High School. In between his scholastic and athletic pursuits, he worked in the auto repair garage still operated by his father, Louis. With his dad setting the standards, Dick eventually became a proficient mechanic while developing the work ethic and devotion to excellence that have marked his coaching career.

Vermeil continued to work in the garage while he attended nearby Napa Junior College and then San Jose State, where he played quarterback and later earned a Master's degree in physical education in 1959.

Dick's first head coaching assignment in 1960 took him to Hillsdale High School in San Mateo, Cal. His three teams there compiled a 17-9-1 record through 1962 before he moved on to become backfield coach at San Mateo Junior College in 1963. The following year he became head coach at his alma mater, Napa College, and turned a perennially losing program into an immediate winner with a 7-2 record in his first season.

In 1965 the major college ranks beckoned and Dick left Napa to join the Stanford staff of John Ralston. He remained there through 1968 when he resigned to become special teams coach under George Allen with the Los Angeles Rams. He returned to college coaching under Tommy Prothro at UCLA the next year but rejoined the NFL the following season when Prothro was named head coach of the Rams. Dick coached the Los Angeles quarterbacks under Prothro and was retained on the staff when Chuck Knox became head coach in 1973.

Vermeil first rose to national prominence during a two-year tenure as head coach at UCLA. His Bruin teams compiled an overall record of 15-5-3, one Pacific-8 Conference title, and an upset of number-one ranked Ohio State in the 1976 Rose Bowl.

It was the good fortune of both Vermeil and the Eagles that team owner Leonard Tose and general manager Jim Murray were watching that Rose Bowl contest on television. By the end of the game, they had penciled in the personable young coach's name at the top of their list of candidates for the vacant Eagles' head coaching position. On February 8, 1976 he signed a five-year contract (later extended through 1985) to become the Birds' 15th head coach.

Vermeil's first two Eagles' teams posted respective 4-10 and 5-9 records while he established the standards of preparation and effort that have characterized his teams on every level of play. In 1978 the Eagles broke through to a 9-7 mark that was good enough to win a spot in the NFL playoffs for the first time since 1960. The accomplishment won recognition for Vermeil as United Press International's NFC Coach of the Year for 1978. He won similar honors from the Professional Football Writers of America, the Kansas City 101 Club and the Columbus (Ohio) Touchdown Club for the rebuilding job he had accomplished with a team that had not had a number one or number two draft choice since 1973.

In 1979, with help from a full draft for the first time, Dick directed the Eagles to an 11-5 mark, and a second consecutive playoff appearance. The Birds defeated the Chicago Bears, 27-17, in the wildcard playoff game before being eliminated by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Even that upset loss couldn't tarnish the gloss of the Eagles' most successful season in 20 years. Vermeil's contribution to the surge was recognized most significantly when his head coaching peers in the league voted him the NFL Coach of the Year in balloting conducted by the Sporting News. He was also named NFL Coach of the Year for 1979 by the Football Digest and NFC Coach of the Year for the second consecutive time by the PFWA and the Kansas City 101 Club.

The best of the Vermeil era came in 1980 when the Birds soared to the top of the NFC with a best ever 12-4 regular season record and into Super Bowl XV with a 20-7 win over Dallas in the conference championship game after a 31-16 playoff victory over the Minnesota Vikings. Dick won yet another honor when the Washington (D.C.) Touchdown Club named him NFL Coach of the Year for 1980.

Last year, the Birds appeared to be on their way to defending their NFC title until a late season slump forced them to settle for a 10-6 regular season record and second place finish in the NFC's Eastern Division. Their 4th consecutive playoff appearance was a disappointing one as they were eliminated in the wildcard game by the New York Giants, 27-21. "We were a better team (than the Super Bowl XV edition) but everyone evaluates whether you were a better football team on the basis of wins and losses," says Vermeil. As always, the coach feels that his upcoming team will be improved and he's hoping that improvement will be reflected this year in the record and the standings.

Vermeil's reputation as a workaholic is well deserved, but he manages to find time to help a number of worthy causes in the community, most notably the Special Olympics program, the Eagles Fly for Leukemia campaign, and the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf. For relaxation he enjoys hunting, photography and, in a carryover from his formative years, automobiles and auto racing. His father is still active in that sport in northern California.

Dick has been married for 26 years to the former Carolyn (Carol) Drake, his high school sweetheart from Calistoga. They are the parents of three children, Richard, 24, David, 23, and daughter Nancy, 21. The Vermeils reside in Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Assistant Coach

JOHN BECKER, Running Backs

After a year with the Eagles as a special assistant for research and quality control, John Becker took to the field last season as coach of the running backs. In that capacity he replaced Billy Joe, who resigned to become head coach at Central (O.) State. Becker, a true professional coach, has been in the profession since his sophomore year in college when he began as an assistant at Crespi Carmelite High School in Encino, Cal. Born in Alexandria, Va. (Feb. 16, 1943), John played prep football at Notre Dame High in Sherman Oaks, Cal. and freshman football at the University of San Diego. He became head coach at Crespi Carmelite by his senior year at Cal State (Northridge) and held that position for five seasons until 1970. That year he became head freshman coach at UCLA before moving on to become offensive coordinator at New Mexico State in 1971. His subsequent collegiate coaching stops included New Mexico (1972-73), Los Angeles Valley College (head coach, 1974-76), and the University of Oregon (1977-79), where he was offensive coordinator. John and his wife, Kathy, are the parents of three teenagers, Kristine, 17; Karen, 16; and John, 14. They make their home in Medford, N.J.

FRED BRUNEY, Defensive Secondary

Fred Bruney, who coached the Eagles' secondary from 1964 through 1968 under Joe Kuharich, has been in Philadelphia again since 1977 after spending the previous eight seasons with the Atlanta Falcons. The 50-year-old Bruney (December 30, 1931) has spent a total of 30 years in professional football as a player and coach. A native of Martin's Ferry, Ohio, Fred starred as a defensive back at Ohio State before graduating in 1953. He was a 3rd round draft choice of Cleveland that year but was traded to San Francisco and played the 1953 season with the 49ers before beginning two years of military duty. He returned to San Francisco in 1956 and subsequently saw action with Pittsburgh (1957), Los Angeles (1958), and the Boston Patriots (1960-62). He was an All-AFL selection in 1960. Boston, his last playing spot, was also his first coaching stop. He tutored the defensive backs there in 1962 and 1963 before coming to Philadelphia. The defensive secondaries he coached at Atlanta consistently ranked with the NFL's best and the Eagles' defensive backs have done the same during the five seasons he has tutored them. In 1981, Bruney's secondary accounted for 17 of the Eagles' 26 pass interceptions as Philadelphia gave up the fewest passing yards in the NFL. Fred and his wife, Louise, reside in Medford, N.J. They have five children: Chuck, 26; Susan, 18; Lori, 15; Rebecca, 12; and Richard, 10.

MARION CAMPBELL, Defensive Coordinator

The man given the most credit for the Eagles' top rated 3-4 defense is Marion Campbell, the defensive coordinator who has been helping to stop opposing offenses since breaking into the NFL as a player in 1954. In his five seasons as the Birds' defensive leader, Campbell's units have given up an average of just 15.2 points a game and last year's defense allowed only 221 points, fewest in the NFL, and least in the league for the second consecutive year. Developing talented defensive units is nothing new to Campbell, who has gained a solid reputation from his work at Minnesota (1964-66), Los Angeles (1966-68) and Atlanta (1969-76). Marion was the Falcons' head coach from November of 1974 to October of 1976. The 53-year-old native of Chester, S.C. (May 25, 1929) was a three time All-Southeastern Conference choice as a tackle at Georgia and was also selected as the team's most valuable player as a senior before graduating in 1951. He was a 4th round draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers but did not begin his eight-year NFL playing career until 1954 after completing two years of Army service as a lieutenant. He played two years with the 49ers before being traded to the Eagles, where he enjoyed his greatest playing seasons and starred on the Birds' 1960 NFL title team. Marion was a Sporting News All-Pro choice in 1959 and 1960 and played in the 1960 and 1961 Pro Bowl games. He retired after the 1961 season and began his coaching career in the AFL with two seasons (1962-63) with the Boston Patriots. A talented golfer and avid fisherman, Campbell resides in Medford, N.J. with his wife, June, and their two children, Scott, 20, and Alicia, 17. Scott is a junior football player at the University of Georgia.

CHUCK CLAUSEN, Defensive Line

Chuck Clausen has been the Eagles' defensive line coach since 1976 after spending the previous five seasons as the defensive line mentor at Ohio State under Woody Hayes. In six years under his direction the Eagles' pass rush has improved dramatically, tying a club record with 47 quarterback sacks in 1977 and notching 44 and 40 the past two years. Clausen, 42 (June 23, 1940), is a native of Anamosa, Iowa. He was a letterman in football and wrestling at New Mexico before graduating in 1963. From 1963 through 1967 he coached on the high school level while also earning a Master's degree in physical education at San Jose State. He spent the 1968 season at New Mexico Military Institute, then moved up to the college ranks in 1969 at William and Mary under current Kansas City Chiefs' head coach Marv Levy. He remained at that school until 1971 when he left to join the Ohio State staff. The Buckeyes won Big 10 titles in four of his five seasons there as Clausen coached three All-Americans, George Hasenohrl, Pete Cusick and Nick Buonamici. Clausen has played a major role in developing the outstanding Eagles' defensive line into one of the most formidable in the NFL. For the past two summers, he has operated a successful youth football camp in Albuquerque, N.M. Chuck and his wife, Betsy, reside in Mount Laurel, N.J. with their three children: Cari, 14; Lisa, 12 and Chad, 11.

HARRY GAMBLE, Administrative Assistant, Tight Ends and Special Teams

Former University of Pennsylvania head coach Harry Gamble became a fulltime member of the Eagles' staff in July of 1982 after serving for one season as a volunteer assistant coach. He has a myriad of responsibilities in his new position as administrative assistant to the head coach and as the assistant coach in charge of tight ends and special teams. Gamble, born December 26, 1930 in Pitman, N.J., replaces Lynn Stiles, who has become the Birds' director of player personnel. Harry began his coaching career immediately after his graduation from Rider College, where he was an offensive lineman from 1948 through 1952. He was a player-coach during Army service at Fort Meade (Md.) in 1953 and then coached in the New Jersey prep ranks from 1954 through 1960. He moved to the college ranks as an assistant at Penn from 1961 to 1965 before being named head coach at Lafayette in 1966. He remained in that position through 1970 before returning to Penn, this time as the Quakers' head coach, in 1971. He spent 10 years in that position before joining the Eagles. Harry makes his home in Haddonfield, N.J. with his wife, Joan, and their sons, Harry, 23, and Tom, 19.

SID GILLMAN, Quarterbacks

After trying retirement for one year, Sid Gillman has decided that he would rather spend his time behind a film projector instead of an 8-iron. Gillman first "retired" from the NFL wars after serving as offensive coordinator of the Chicago Bears in 1977. He spent a year and a half as athletic director of U.S. International University in San Diego before joining the Eagles' coaching staff in 1979 as an offensive aide to Dick Vermeil. After helping the Eagles to the NFC championship in 1980, Gillman returned with his wife Esther to their San Diego home, but the lure of the game proved too strong once again and he has returned to help tutor the Eagles' quarterbacks and work on offensive strategy. Sid, 70, was born in Minneapolis, Minn. on October 26, 1911. After graduating from Ohio State where he played end on the football squad, he became a coach at the school for the 1934 season. Following two years (1935 through 1937) at Denison University he returned to his alma mater from 1938 to 1940. He went on to assist at Miami of Ohio in 1942-43 and at West Point in 1948. Gillman became a head coach for the first time at Miami of Ohio in 1944 and remained there through 1947. He was named head coach at the University of Cincinnati in 1949 and never won fewer than eight games in a season there through 1954. He came into the NFL in 1955 as head coach of the Los Angeles Rams, a position he held until 1959. He moved to the AFL with the Los Angeles entry in 1960 and remained with that team when it relocated to San Diego the following year. In 11 seasons under Gillman, the Chargers won AFL Western Division titles five times and had an overall record of 86-53-6. His 1963 team defeated the Boston Patriots, 51-10, to win the AFL championship. Sid finished his head coaching career following the 1974 season when he was named NFL Coach of the Year after leading the underdog Houston Oilers to a 7-7 record. He and his wife are the parents of four daughters. The Gillmans reside in Philadelphia and Carlsbad, Calif.

GEORGE HILL, Linebackers

George Hill is beginning his 4th year with the Eagles after establishing a solid background on the college level, including eight seasons from 1971 through 1978 as defensive coordinator under Woody Hayes at Ohio State. Hill, 49 (April 28, 1933), is a native of Bay Village, Ohio. He was a lineman at Ohio's Denison University, which he attended after service with the U.S. Navy. George began coaching in 1959 at Findlay (O.) College, returned to Denison from 1960 through 1964 and then spent the 1965 season at Cornell. He was an assistant at Duke from 1966 through 1970 before joining the Ohio State staff. George coached a number of outstanding college players who went on to have successful NFL careers, including Bob Matheson at Duke, and Ohio State products Randy Gradishar, Rick Middleton and Bob Brudzinski. Hill's linebacking unit with the Eagles is among the best in the NFL and sent two players, Frank LeMaster and Jerry Robinson, to the Pro Bowl last year. George and his wife, Clyde, reside with their children, Greg, 17, and Tammy, 13, in Mount Laurel, N.J.

KEN IMAN, Offensive Line

Along with Chuck Clausen and Dick Coury, Ken Iman is one of three assistants who joined Dick Vermeil's first Eagles' coaching staff in 1976. Iman came into his new career with no prior coaching experience after a stellar 14-year playing career as a center with the Green Bay Packers and Los Angeles Rams. Iman, 43 (February 8, 1939), is a native of St. Louis, Mo. and a 1960 alumnus of Southeast Missouri State College. He joined the Packers after graduation and played in three consecutive NFL championship games (1960, '61 and '62) with them before being traded to Los Angeles for quarterback Zeke Bratkowski in 1964. After missing the '64 season with a broken ankle, Ken went on to start 140 consecutive regular season games between 1965 through 1974. In 1972 his teammates voted him most valuable player honors. He also started in the 1974 NFC championship game. With the Eagles, Iman teams with Jerry Wampfler in coaching the offensive line. Ken is the father of four children, Susan, Karen, Betsy and Robert. He resides with his wife Joyce, an accountant in the Eagles' business office, in Springfield, Pa.

JERRY WAMPFLER, Offensive Line and Running Game Coordinator

Jerry Wampfler began his second stint with the Eagles in 1979 after serving as the Birds' defensive line coach under Mike McCormack from 1973 through 1975. Wampfler, 50, was born in New Philadelphia, Ohio on August 7, 1932. Recruited by Woody Hayes, he was a standout offensive tackle at Miami of Ohio from 1951 to 1954. An off-season back injury forced him to miss an NFL tryout as a Los Angeles Rams' draft choice and he turned to a career in coaching at high schools in New Philadelphia, Lancaster and Massillon, Ohio. He undertook his first major college assignment at his alma mater from 1963 through 1965 before becoming an offensive line coach under another Miami alumnus, Ara Parseghian, at Notre Dame. He remained at Notre Dame until 1970 when he was named head coach at Colorado State, a position he held until joining the Eagles in 1973. After his first three years in Philadelphia, Jerry was an assistant coach at Buffalo in 1976 and 1977 and with the New York Giants in 1978. He returned to the Eagles in April of 1979 and teams with Ken Iman to coach the offensive line and coordinate the running game. Jerry and his wife, Carol, have three children, Nan, Jody and Tad. They reside in Cherry Hill, N.J.

LYNN STILES, Director of Player Personnel

Lynn Stiles was named to replace Carl Peterson as director of player personnel in July of 1982 after serving for three seasons as Dick Vermeil's administrative assistant and coach of the tight ends and special teams. Stiles was actually among the first coaches hired by Vermeil when he arrived in Philadelphia in 1976 but an opportunity to become head coach at San Jose State interrupted Lynn's first stay in Philadelphia before the '76 season began. Stiles, 42 (April 12, 1941), was born in Kermit, Texas but went to high school in Reno, Nev. After a college playing career as an All-Western Athletic Conference guard at the University of Utah and a post-season appearance in the All-American Bowl, Lynn began coaching at his alma mater in 1963 and remained there through 1965. From 1966 to 1970 he was a defensive line coach under Ray Nagel at Iowa before joining the UCLA staff of Pepper Rogers in 1971. Stiles served as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator for the Bruins after Vermeil took over in 1974. As head coach at San Jose State from 1976 through 1978, Lynn's teams finished with an overall 18-16 record and two PCAA championships. In his new capacity with the Eagles, Stiles will head a staff of five fulltime personnel scouts in overseeing the acquisition and signing of talent. Lynn and his wife, Marigene, make their home in Moorestown, N.J. with their four children: Staci, 16; Shon, 13; Tiffany, 5 and Blake, 3.

JACKIE GRAVES, Assistant Director of Player Personnel

Jackie Graves is beginning his 10th season with the Eagles and 8th as the club's assistant director of player personnel. His concentrated area of scouting responsibility is the South and Southwest and for that reason he continues to make his home in Houston, Texas. The 56-year-old Graves had a varied football and business background before coming to the Eagles in 1973. A native of Lubbock, Texas, he played football and majored in physical education at Texas College in Tyler. After college he served as an assistant coach at Texas Southern University for nine years and later coached at his alma mater for two seasons. After working in private business from 1961 through 1965, Jackie joined the A. G. Spaulding Co. for five years (1966-70) while scouting part-time for the New England Patriots. He worked for the CEPO scouting combine just prior to joining the Eagles. Jackie and his wife, Willie, are the parents of three children: Roderick, 23; Sheila, 21; and Jackie A., 20.

BILL BAKER, Talent Scout

Bill Baker, who has been with the Eagles for the past seven seasons, is the club's primary scout for the Western region of the United States. He joined the organization in 1975 after spending the previous two seasons with the CEPO scouting combine. Baker, 54 (November 26, 1927), is a native of Knoxville, Tenn. He played college football at Tennessee (1947-49) and at Wyoming (1950-51) as a center-linebacker. Bill began coaching in 1952 at Newcastle High School in Wyoming and compiled a 24-2-1 record there through 1954. In 1955 he became head coach at Chadron (Neb.) State College. He remained there through 1961. His 1958 team was undefeated and won Bill Coach of the Year honors in the Nebraska Conference. He moved on to Wyoming as offensive line and kicking coach from 1962 through 1970 and performed the same duties at Arizona in the 1971-72 seasons. Bill and his wife, Marjorie, have a married daughter, Vicky, and two sons, Bill, Jr., an assistant coach at Purdue, and Mike. They reside in Tucson, Ariz.

JIM KATCAVAGE, Talent Scout

Philadelphian Jim Katcavage, who began his grid career at this city's Roman Catholic High School, joined the Eagles' personnel department in 1974 after spending the 18 previous years in the NFL with the New York Giants, first as an all-pro defensive end and later as an assistant coach. A native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., "Kat" moved to Philadelphia as a youngster with his family. He played as a collegian at the University of Dayton before joining the Giants in 1956 as a 4th round draft choice. His playing career spanned the period from 1956 through 1968, when he starred on one of the great defensive front fours in NFL history. Katcavage became an assistant coach with the New York club in 1969 and remained there in that capacity through 1973. Jim and his wife, Kathy, reside with their two children, Jimmy and Kathleen, in Maple Glen, Pa.

PHIL NERI, Talent Scout

Phil Neri, the youngest member of the Eagles' scouting department, is the club's primary talent evaluator in the Midwestern United States. The 31-year-old Neri (July 13, 1951) is a native of Santa Monica, Cal. He played football at Santa Clara University, where he earned a B.S. degree in business in 1973. Phil was a college teammate of quarterback Dan Pastorini. He spent two seasons (1974-75), as an assistant coach at Notre Dame High School in Sherman Oaks, Cal., then served for two years (1976-77) as a graduate assistant to current Eagles' assistant Lynn Stiles, who was head coach at San Jose State at the time. Neri spent the 1978 season covering the Rocky Mountain region for the BLESTO scouting organization before joining the Eagles. His father, Jerry Neri, is a Philadelphia native and has scouted for the Detroit Lions for the past 12 years. Phil is a bachelor and resides in Los Angeles, Cal.

HERMAN BALL, Personnel Consultant

Although he officially retired and passed along his title of player personnel director to Carl Peterson at the conclusion of the 1977 season, 70-year-old Herman Ball remains an integral part of the Eagles' personnel department. Herman, who became personnel director in 1969, has been associated with the National Football League in some capacity for the past 38 years. He played guard at Davis-Elkins College in West Virginia from 1932 to 1934 before beginning his coaching career at Ridgeley, W. Va. and Cumberland, Md. on the high school level. In 1943 he joined the staff at the University of Maryland and remained there until 1946 while serving concurrently for two years as a Washington Redskins' assistant. He went on to become head coach of the 'Skins in the 1950-51 seasons. Ball joined the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1955 for one year before spending seven seasons (1956-62) with the Baltimore Colts. He came to the Eagles as an assistant coach in 1964. Herman resides in King of Prussia, Pa. with his wife, Edna.

current executive director of the National Athletic Trainers Association and past president of the Pennsylvania Athletic Trainers Society. A native of Elgin, Texas, Otho holds a B.S. degree in physical education from Lamar Tech (1957) and an M.A. degree from Kent State (1964). He was a trainer and an assistant professor in the department of physical education at Duke University from 1965 until 1971, when he entered the NFL for the first time as associate trainer of the Baltimore Colts. He became head athletic trainer of the Eagles in 1973. In that capacity, he supervises a training and rehabilitative facility that ranks among the best in professional sports. His skills have been recognized by the National Athletic Trainers Association, which named him "Professional Trainer of the Year" for three of the past four seasons, including 1981, and the Athletic Foundation, which inducted him into the Athletic Trainers Hall of Fame in 1981. Otho resides in Mount Laurel, N.J. with his wife, Joanne, and their four sons: Mark, 25; Harry Duke, 19; Richard, 17 and Tom, 14.

RON O'NEIL, Assistant Athletic Trainer

Ron O'Neil has been an invaluable member of the Eagles' training staff since he joined the club in 1973 at the same time as head trainer Otho Davis. O'Neil, 34, came to the Eagles after a stint as assistant trainer at Northwestern University. In Philadelphia, he has enhanced his reputation as a skilled and dedicated rehabilitation specialist. A native of Clarksburg, W. Va., Ron is a 1969 alumnus of Ball State, where he majored in physical education and biological sciences. He is a certified athletic trainer and assists head trainer Davis in the administration of the National Athletic Trainers Association. He is also the president of the Pennsylvania Athletic Trainers Society. Ron and his wife, Joyce, reside in Tabernacle, N.J. with their sons, Chadd James, 4 and Shaun, 3 and daughter Kara, 2.

VINCENT J. DiSTEFANO, M.D., Team Physician

Dr. Vincent J. DiStefano has served as Eagles' team physician for the past 11 seasons. A native of South Philadelphia, he received his undergraduate education at Temple University (A.B. degree in 1959) and his medical training at the Hahnemann College Medical School (M.D. degree in 1963). He served as a physician in the U.S. Navy from 1964 to 1966 and currently specializes in orthopedics at the Paoli (Pa.) Memorial Hospital along with Eagles' orthopedic consultant Dr. Herman Phillips. He is also associated with the Paoli Sports Medicine Clinic and is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine and The American Orthopaedic Society of Sports Medicine.

RUSTY SWEENEY, Equipment Manager

PRO: One of three Eagles' 6th round draft choices in 1977, chosen with a pick acquired from Chicago in a trade for guard Mark Nordquist. . . . Came back from an injury-plagued 1980 season to enjoy his second most productive rushing year in 1981, gaining 1,402 yards on 286 carries and scoring eight touchdowns on the ground. . . . Finished 4th in NFL rushing statistics and tied Detroit's Billy Sims for best average per carry (4.9 yards) among the league's top ten runners. . . . Has rushed for over 1,000 yards in three of the past four seasons and never averaged less than four yards a carry in his career. . . . Also an accomplished receiver, he finished second on the team with 49 receptions for 491 yards and two more TD's in 1981 after leading the team with 50 catches the previous season. . . . Was healthy almost all of last year missing only one game (at home against Washington) and starting 15 others. . . . Enters 1982 season needing only 766 rushing yards to pass Steve Van Buren as the leading Eagles' rusher of all time. . . . Needs 200 carries to pass Van Buren (1,320) for most career rushing attempts as an Eagle. . . . Ran for 100 yards in seven games last year to give him a club record 23 in his career. . . . Top running performance in 1981 came against New England when he gained 137 yards in a 13-3 Eagles' victory. Also went over the century mark in wins over Buffalo (125), St. Louis (118 and 108), and Baltimore (115), and losses to the New York Giants (102) and at Washington (116). Eagles are 19-4 in games in which he has ran for over 100 yards. . . . Recorded the Birds' best one game receiving day of 1981 with 10 receptions for 143 yards and a 35-yard touchdown in 35-23 loss at Minnesota. . . . Caught a career high 11 passes for 78 yards in 1980 loss at San Diego. . . . Scored rushing TD's of five and one yards in 38-13 rout of Baltimore last year. . . . Has twice tied a club record of four touchdowns in a game, most recently in 1979 in a 28-17 Eagles' victory over Washington. Also scored four in 1978 against the Redskins. . . . Gained an NFL season best of 197 yards on 30 carries against Cleveland in 1979. . . . Led the Eagles to a 20-7 NFC championship win over Dallas in January of 1981 by rushing for 194 yards on 26 carries, including 42-yard scoring run. . . . Began his pro career as the NFC's top kick returner in 1977, averaging 26.9 yards on 23 returns and scoring on a 99-yard burst against the Giants at Veterans Stadium. . . . Played in Pro Bowl games following the 1978 and 1979 seasons.

COLLEGE: Studied and starred at Abilene Christian, where he set an all-time collegiate record with 76 career touchdowns. . . . Led the school to NAIA championship as a freshman with 37 TD's to surpass previous college best of 29 scores co-held by Lydell Mitchell and Terry Metcalf. . . . Scored at least one TD in 32 of 35 college games and gained over 100 yards rushing 14 times. . . . Ran for 3,047 yards in his career. . . . 1983 Eagles' Schedule

The opponents and sites for the Eagles' 1983 season can be determined as soon as the 1982 regular season is completed. The NFL schedule formula matches opponents in a predetermined manner based on their standings of the previous season.

If the Eagles finish FIRST in the NFC East in 1982, their 1983 opponents will be: two games (home-and-home) with the other four NFC Eastern Division teams (eight games); home games against the first place team from the NFC West and against the fourth place team from the NFC Central and away games against the first place team from the NFC Central and against the fourth place team from the NFC West; and four additional games against the first four finishers in the AFC West with sites determined by the rules governing interconference game site priorities.

If the Eagles finish SECOND in the NFC East in 1982, their 1983 opponents will be: two games (home-and-home) with the other four NFC Eastern Division teams (eight games); home games against the second place team from the NFC West and against the third place team from the NFC Central and away games against the second place team from the NFC Central and against the third place team from the NFC West; and the four additional games against the first four finishers in the AFC West.

If the Eagles finish THIRD in the NFC East in 1982, their 1983 opponents will be: two games (home-and-home) with the other four NFC Eastern Division teams; home games against the second

1983 INTERCONFERENCE GAME SITE PRIORITIES

For interconference games between teams 1 through 4 in a division, sites will be assigned so that those teams will not play a second consecutive home or road game with the interconference opponents played in 1980, when the same divisions were last paired—(AFC East-NFC East).

Review of Eagles' 1981 Season

EAGLES 24, NEW YORK GIANTS 10

September 6 at Giants Stadium

The Eagles opened the season with their 12th straight victory over the Giants, 11 of the wins coming under Dick Vermeil. The Birds spotted New York an early 3-0 lead, then held the Giants scoreless until the final minutes of the last period. In between, the Eagles got a one-yard scoring run from Perry Harrington, a 47-yard Tony Franklin field goal, a 55-yard TD pass from Ron Jaworski to Rodney Parker, and a one-yard TD run from Wilbert Montgomery. The scoring pass to Parker broke open a 10-3 game in the third period and was Jaworski's first completion of the day to a wide receiver. He completed 12 of his 16 pass attempts to running backs, including six for 33 yards to Montgomery, who also added 84 rushing yards on 16 carries.

EAGLES 13, NEW ENGLAND 3

September 13 at Veterans Stadium

The Eagles got their home season off to a solid start by holding the potent New England offense to a lone field goal and only 283 total yards. The Patriots got their field goal early in the first period but could advance no farther than the Philadelphia 29-yard line in the final three stanzas. When they did reach the 29, in the third quarter, Frank LeMaster intercepted a Steve Grogan pass at the 23 and returned it to the Eagles' 45. From there, Ron Jaworski engineered the only touchdown drive of the day as the Birds went 55 yards in seven plays, Perry Harrington scoring from the six-yard line. LeMaster's interception was one of five the Eagles recorded for the day off of Grogan and his replacement, Matt Cavanaugh.

EAGLES 20, BUFFALO 14

September 17 at Rich Stadium

An early season Thursday Night Football showdown went to the Eagles as they rebounded from a 14-10 halftime deficit behind Wilbert Montgomery's running, Ron Jaworski's passing and a characteristically stingy defense. Jaworski, playing before hundreds of family members and friends from his nearby hometown of Lackawanna, N.Y., directed the Eagles 66 yards following the second half kickoff and gave the Birds the lead for good with a 15-yard touchdown pass to Harold Carmichael. The Eagles then depended on a big play defense and Montgomery's talents to hold the lead and the victory. Free safety Brenard Wilson intercepted Joe Ferguson passes in each of the final two periods to blunt Buffalo drives and Wilbert picked up 94 of his game-high 125 rushing yards after intermission.

EAGLES 36, WASHINGTON 13

September 27 at Veterans Stadium

A fourth period point explosion, keyed by some aggressive defensive play, led to a victory that was deceptively closer than the final score indicates. The Eagles, playing without the injured Wilbert Montgomery (hamstring), led by only 14-13 midway through the last period. Montgomery's replacement, Louie Giammona, had staked them to that lead with a 13-yard touchdown reception and a one-yard scoring run. Wally Henry's 43-yard kickoff return following Washington's only TD set up an Eagles' touchdown drive and the defense, featuring a Reggie Wilkes' interception and return to the 'Skins 12-yard line, a Ken Clarke safety against Joe Theismann, and a Greg Brown fumble recovery TD, did most of the damage as the Eagles scored 22 points in less than seven minutes.

EAGLES 16, ATLANTA 13

October 5, 1981 at Veterans Stadium

After failing to beat the Falcons in three tries in the previous three years, the Eagles finally accomplished the feat before a national ABC-TV audience and the largest crowd to ever see a football game at Veterans Stadium, 71,488. As they did in the three losses to the Falcons, the Birds jumped out to a quick lead and led 13-0 at halftime. Atlanta closed to 13-10 after returning a fumbled kickoff for a touchdown in the third period but the Eagles' defense kept them out of the end zone the rest of the game and the offense ran off the final six minutes and 38 seconds, getting a key roughing the punter penalty and a 39-yard gain by rookie fullback Hubie Oliver with 55 seconds remaining.

EAGLES 31, NEW ORLEANS 14

October 11, 1981 at the Superdome

The Eagles beat the Saints for the fourth consecutive year in the Superdome, fighting off the first quarter doldrums to take a 24-7 halftime lead and coast in with their sixth straight victory. The Birds fell behind quickly, 7-0, at the beginning of the game but evened the score on their first possession with an 11-yard Ron Jaworski touchdown pass to Keith Kreple. New Eagle Booker Russell scored twice in the first half on one-yard runs and Tony Franklin added a 22-yard field goal. Afterward, coach Dick Vermeil expressed his displeasure with the defensive performance of the first half and the offensive showing in the second half. New Orleans rushed for 190 yards but got only 50 in the air as the Eagles recorded four sacks.

MINNESOTA 35, EAGLES 23

October 18 at Metropolitan Stadium

The Eagles' club record six game winning streak at the beginning of a season came to an end in a flurry of Tommy Kramer touchdown passes, three of which came in the second period. The Birds got an omen of things to come when Tony Franklin's point after attempt following a Wilbert Montgomery touchdown in the first period was blocked by the Vikings' Matt Blair. It was the first miss by Franklin after 63 consecutive successes dating back to 1979. An Eagles' 9-7 advantage after a Franklin field goal lasted only until early in the second period. Kramer followed his three first half TD passes with another in the third quarter and the Vikes coasted in with their 5th straight victory. Ron Jaworski set personal records with 30 pass completions in 45 attempts for 345 yards. It was the third 300-yard passing day of his career, and first of 1981.

EAGLES 20, TAMPA BAY 10

October 25 at Veterans Stadium

Two of the best defensive teams in the NFL combined to produce a tight football game which the Eagles salvaged with 13 points in the fourth quarter. Tampa Bay took an early lead on a 59-yard scoring drive but the Eagles tied the score at half-time when Roynell Young intercepted a Doug Williams pass at the Buccaneers' 42-yard line and Ron Jaworski hit tight end Keith Kreple with a six-yard TD pass eight plays later. The game was deadlocked at 10-10 with seven minutes remaining but the Eagles scored the next ten points. Tony Franklin's 32-yard field goal proved the eventual game-winner and Wilbert Montgomery added an insurance score on a two-yard run following a Richard Blackmore interception and return to the Tampa Bay five. Wilbert's 119-yard rushing performance was his third hundred yard day of the season and the 19th of his career.

DALLAS 17, EAGLES 14

November 1 at Veterans Stadium

The Eagles saw a 14-3 lead dissipate as Dallas scored two fourth period touchdowns, then held on for the victory as Joe Pisarcik drove the Birds' to the enemy 16 before his third down pass was dropped inside the Cowboys' 5-yard line and Tony Franklin hooked a 34-yard field goal attempt wide left. The Eagles nursed a 7-3 halftime lead into the third period when Ron Jaworski and Harold Carmichael combined on an 85-yard touchdown pass, the longest of both players' careers. The Cowboys came back to narrow the deficit to 14-10 with a 75-yard scoring march and when the Eagles couldn't move from their own 10-yard line after a key penalty on the kickoff return following that TD, Dallas came back to score the winning touchdown with a five-play, 39-yard drive. A key statistic was the Eagles' ten penalties for 76 yards.

EAGLES 52, ST. LOUIS 10

November 8 at Busch Memorial Stadium

The Eagles scored touchdowns on five of their seven possessions in the second half and went on to ring up their largest point total since 1953. Despite the one-sided final score, St. Louis still led midway through the second period until Ron Jaworski found Rodney Parker with a 33-yard touchdown pass and Tony Franklin added a field goal a few minutes later to give the Birds a 17-10 lead at halftime. The Cardinals compounded their problems with a lost fumble and a pass interception on their first two possessions of the second half and the Eagles turned both miscues into touchdowns on Jaworski passes to Harold Carmichael. The Birds' three fourth period TD's were highlighted by a 20-yard TD pass from Joe Pisarcik to Wally Henry. It was Pisarcik's first scoring pass as an Eagle and the first NFL touchdown reception for Henry.

EAGLES 38, BALTIMORE 13

November 15 at Veterans Stadium

The Eagles found themselves trailing, 7-6, early in the second period before reeling off three touchdowns and a field goal to take a 31-6 advantage at the beginning of the final quarter. Wilbert Montgomery rushed for over 100 yards for the second straight game and for the third time in the past four weeks. He scored on five and one-yard touchdown runs, the first TD giving the Eagles the lead for keeps early in the second after Curtis Dickey had given the Colts their only lead on a one-yard run in the first period. Joe Pisarcik and Wally Henry hooked up for their second touchdown pass in as many weeks, this one a 44-yard strike that ended the Eagles' scoring. The Birds had 574 yards of total offense in winning their 9th game of the season.

NEW YORK GIANTS 20, EAGLES 10

November 22 at Veterans Stadium

The Eagles' streak of 12 consecutive victories over the Giants dating from 1975 ended with a 20-10 New York upset at the Vet. The Giants broke a 10-10 tie in the fourth period when Joe Danelo kicked a 30-yard field goal after a nine yard Philadelphia punt on the preceding series gave New York the ball on the Eagles' 32-yard line. On the Eagles' next possession, consecutive 10-yard penalties and a 17-yard sack of Ron Jaworski by Brad

Van Pelt gave the Eagles a third down and 40 yards to go situation at their own 16-yard line. Terry Jackson then intercepted Jaworski's sideline pass and raced 32 yards for the score that put the game out of reach. Wilbert Montgomery rushed for 102 yards in defeat, marking only the fourth time in 24 games that the Eagles have lost when Montgomery surpassed the 100 mark.

MIAMI 13, EAGLES 10

November 30 at the Orange Bowl

The Eagles nursed leads of 7-0, 7-3 and 10-3 for over three periods before disaster struck in the fourth after Don Strock replaced starter David Woodley at quarterback for the Dolphins. Helped by 20 yards of Philadelphia penalties, the Dolphins drove 61 yards in six plays to tie the game at 10-10 on Strock's touchdown pass to Durief Harris and the successful point-after kick. Three plays later, Ron Jaworski's pass attempt to Harold Carmichael was intercepted at the Eagles' 33 and the Dolphins' Uwe von Schamann kicked the game winning 27-yard field goal seven plays after the interception. With 1:04 still remaining, Wally Henry fumbled and lost the ball on the ensuing kickoff and Miami ran out the final seconds to preserve the victory.

WASHINGTON 15, EAGLES 13

December 6 at R.F.K. Stadium

Monte Coleman took a Ron Jaworski interception 52 yards for the winning touchdown and the Eagles were unable to convert a possible game winning field goal in the waning moments as the Birds dropped their third straight game and fell to 9-5 for the season. Billy Campfield touchdown receptions of five and 25 yards from Jaworski in the second quarter gave the Eagles a 13-6 lead which they clung to until Mark Moseley closed the gap to 13-9 with a 45-yard field goal early in the final period. On their final possession of the game beginning at their own 20 with a 2:17 remaining, the Eagles drove behind Jaworski to the Redskins' seven but a bobbled snap negated any chance of a go-ahead field goal.

DALLAS 21, EAGLES 10

December 13 at Texas Stadium

The Eagles appeared to be headed into halftime with at least a 10-0 lead until disaster struck late in the second period when John Sciarra couldn't field Danny White's short punt and the Cowboys recovered the muff on the Philadelphia 20-yard line. Dallas cut the Birds' advantage to 10-7 only four plays after the miscue and took the lead for the first time with an eight play, 80-yard scoring drive at the beginning of the second half. The final two periods, in fact, were all Dallas as the Eagles could advance no farther than the Cowboys' 35. Ron Jaworski was victimized for four pass interceptions, including one at the Dallas 29 with the Eagles holding the 10-0 lead. The Birds were also held to 90 yards on 23 rushes.

EAGLES 38, ST. LOUIS 0

December 20 at Veterans Stadium

The Birds notched their first shutout since 1980 and rolled up 444 yards of total offense in overwhelming St. Louis for the second time in 1981. The Eagles broke open a close game with three second period touchdowns and were never threatened in winning their regular season finale and breaking a four game losing streak. Wilbert Montgomery, with 108 yards rushing, surpassed the 100-yard mark for the 7th time in '81 while Ron Jaworski was completing 13 of 19 passes for 172 yards and three touchdowns. The Philadelphia defense sacked rookie Cardinal quarterback Neil Lomax seven times and picked off three of his passes, two of them by Herman Edwards. The Birds also recovered three St. Louis fumbles.

NFC Wildcard Playoff Game

NEW YORK GIANTS 27, EAGLES 21

December 27 at Veterans Stadium

A dropped punt and a bobbled kickoff set up two of three New York touchdowns in the first period and the Eagles failed to claw their way out of the 20-0 hole that they had dug for themselves. Wally Henry's fumble while trying to field the first punt of the game set up the Giants for a six play, 25-yard scoring drive early in the first quarter. Later in the stanza, the Giants marched 62 yards for another score and when Henry mishandled the ensuing kickoff and New York's Mike Haynes recovered in the Philadelphia end zone, the Birds found themselves trailing by 20 points. The Eagles scored on two Wilbert Montgomery runs after long drives to cut a 27-7 halftime deficit to 27-21 late in the game but could never regain possession as the Giants' Rob Carpenter carried four straight times for 28 of his game-high 161 yards. It was the largest rushing total by an individual against the Eagles since Tony Dorsett ran for 206 yards on 23 carries for Dallas in 1977.

The Eagles' Story

- 1933 Frankford Yellowjackets' franchise in the NFL awarded to syndicate headed by Bert Bell and Lud Wray for $2500. Club christened "Eagles" in honor of the symbol of the New Deal and the NRA. Eagles and Chicago Bears play in Philadelphia's first Sunday game (Nov. 12) at Baker Bowl Game ends in a 3-3 tie.
- 1935 General manager Bert Bell proposes an annual college draft to equalize talent in league. Proposal is adopted on May 19 for the 1936 season.
- 1936 Eagles have first choice in inaugural college draft. Select University of Chicago back Jay Berwanger but fail to sign him. Bell becomes sole owner of club with $4000 bid. Playing site for home games moves from Baker Bowl to Municipal Stadium.
- 1939 Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian's All-American quarterback, signs with Eagles for reported $12,000 per annum salary and percentage of the gate. O'Brien plays in every game and sets NFL passing yardage record with 1,324.

1940's

- 1940 Home playing site switches from Municipal Stadium to Shibe Park. Art Rooney of Pittsburgh buys half interest in the Eagles after selling the Pittsburgh franchise to Alexis Thompson of New York.
- 1941 Rooney and Thompson swap franchises, Rooney returning to Pittsburgh and Thompson taking over the Eagles. Bert Bell joins Rooney as a fulltime partner in Pittsburgh. Thompson hires Earle (Greasy) Neale as head coach of the Eagles.
- 1943 Eagles merge with Pittsburgh Steelers. Team known as "Steagles." Merger dissolved at end of season.
- 1944 First draft choice Steve Van Buren debuts as Eagles' halfback. Team finishes in second place with 7-1-2 record.
- 1945 Team again finishes in second place with 7-3 record and leads league in scoring with 272 points. Van Buren leads NFL with 832 rushing yards and 110 points scored.
- 1946 Team finishes second for third straight year with 6-5 record.
- 1947 Rookie end Pete Pihos, Van Buren and Bosh Pritchard combine with an overpowering defense to lead Philadelphia into the NFL championship game for the first time. Chicago Cardinals score 28-21 victory to win title at icy Comiskey Park.
- 1948 Eagles win their first NFL championship, downing the Chicago Cardinals, 7-0, in a blinding snowstorm at Shibe Park. Team finishes with overall record of 10-2-1.
- 1949 Alexis Thompson sells Eagles for $250,000 to a syndicate headed by local businessman James P. Clark. Vince McNally is named general manager. University of Pennsylvania All-American center-linebacker Chuck Bednarik is a first round draft choice. Eagles win third straight Eastern Division title and defend their NFL championship with a 14-0 victory over the Los Angeles Rams. Team finishes with overall record of 12-1.

1950's

- 1951 Alvin (Bo) McMillin replaces Greasy Neale as head coach after a 6-6 season in 1950. McMillin takes ill the night before the season opener and is replaced as head coach by Wayne Millner. End-placekicker Bobby Walston is named rookie of the year.

- 1952 Jim Trimble succeeds Wayne Millner as head coach. Team rides strong defense to 7-5 second place finish.
- 1953 Bobby Thomason and Adrian Burk combine to pass for a league-high 3,089 yards. Pete Pihos catches 63 passes for 1,049 yards and 10 touchdowns to lead league. Eagles finish in second place and crack Cleveland's 11-game winning streak with 42-27 win in season finale.
- 1954 Bobby Walston leads league in scoring with 114 points. Eagles finish second for third straight year with second straight 7-4-1 record.
- 1955 Pihos again leads all NFL pass receivers with 62 catches for 864 yards. Joseph A. Donoghue, Eagles' vice president/secretary, is elected assistant treasurer of NFL.
- 1956 Hugh Devore is named to replace Jim Trimble as head coach.
- 1957 Rookie quarterback Sonny Jurgensen highlights season by passing Eagles to 17-7 upset of Cleveland Browns.
- 1958 Buck Shaw signs as head coach replacing Hugh Devore. Eagles acquire quarterback Norm Van Brocklin in trade with Los Angeles. Team moves home games from Connie Mack Stadium to University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field and attendance almost doubles.
- 1959 With Pete Retzlaff and Tommy McDonald his chief targets, Norm Van Brocklin passes Eagles to 7-5 record and second place tie with Cleveland.

1960's

- 1960 Norm Van Brocklin and Chuck Bednarik—playing nearly 60 minutes at center and linebacker—pace the Eagles to their first Eastern Division title in 11 years. The Birds then won their third NFL championship with a come-from-behind 17-13 victory over Green Bay. Van Brocklin, the league's most valuable player, and head coach Buck Shaw both announce their retirement at the end of the season.
- 1961 Nick Skorich replaces Buck Shaw as head coach and Sonny Jurgensen takes over as the starting quarterback. Despite Jurgensen's record-setting season, the Eagles' fail to repeat as division champions with a 10-4 regular season record.
- 1962 Injuries in unprecedented numbers hit Eagles and the team wins only three games and falls to last place.
- 1963 Timmy Brown sets an NFL record for total offense in a season. Developer Jerry Wolman purchases the franchise.
- 1964 Former Chicago Cardinals and Washington Redskins coach Joe Kuharich signs as head coach and begins a series of major trades designed to rebuild the club.
- 1966 After extensive roster changes, the Eagles finish 9-5 for their first winning season in five years.
- 1967 Quarterback Norm Snead and flanker Ben Hawkins set respective team passing and receiving records but key injuries to other players contribute to a disappointing second place finish and 6-7-1 record.
- 1969 Leonard Tose purchases the franchise from Jerry Wolman for $16.1 million, at the time a record price for a professional sports team. Tose names former receiving great Pete Retzlaff as general manager and Jerry Williams as head coach.

1970's

- 1971 The Eagles move to a new home at Veterans Stadium. After three consecutive crushing losses at the beginning of the season, assistant Ed Khayat replaces Jerry Williams as head coach.
- 1972 After a stormy 2-11-1 season, Tose accepts general manager Retzlaff's resignation and releases the entire coaching staff.

- 1973 Under new coach Mike McCormack and new quarterback Roman Gabriel, the Eagles have an exciting offensive season but it is not enough to keep them from a 5-8-1 record. In his first year as a fulltime wide receiver, Harold Carmichael leads the NFL with 67 pass receptions. Carmichael and three other Eagles, tight end Charles Young, safety Bill Bradley and Gabriel, are selected to play in the Pro Bowl.
- 1974 Under newly appointed general manager Jim Murray, the Eagles trade with Cincinnati and acquire linebacker Bill Bergey. Bergey bolsters the defense and wins Pro Bowl honors along with Charles Young, who becomes the third consecutive Eagle to lead the league in pass receptions.
- 1976 After a 4-10 season in 1975, Tose appoints 39-year-old Dick Vermeil of UCLA as head coach. Bill Bergey wins All-NFC and Pro Bowl recognition.
- 1977 Quarterback Ron Jaworski is obtained from the Los Angeles Rams in exchange for the rights to tight end Charles Young. Bill Bergey, keying the newly-installed 3-4 defense of coordinator Marion Campbell, wins numerous all-pro and all-conference honors and is selected to play in his third Pro Bowl game.
- 1978 The Eagles post a 9-7 record, their first winning season since 1966 and make the playoffs for the first time since 1960. They lose to Atlanta, 14-13, on two late touchdowns in the NFC wildcard playoff game. Wilbert Montgomery, in his first starting season, rushes for 1,220 yards to become the first Eagle since Steve Van Buren to surpass 1,000 in a season. Montgomery plays in the Pro Bowl along with Harold Carmichael, Bill Bergey and offensive tackle Stan Walters.
- 1979 With an 11-5 regular season record—their best since 1961—the Eagles tie Dallas for first place in the NFC East and go to the playoffs as a wildcard team. After trimming Chicago, 27-17 in the playoffs, the Birds are upset at Tampa Bay, 24-17. Montgomery sets a club record with 1,512 rushing yards and Harold Carmichael sets a new NFL record during the season against Cleveland by catching a pass in his 106th consecutive game. Barefoot rookie kicker Tony Franklin kicks the second longest field goal in NFL history—59 yards—in 31-21 win at Dallas. Dick Vermeil's head coaching peers vote him NFL Coach of the Year honors.

- 1980 The Eagles win 11 of their first 12 games and go on to a 12-4 mark and the NFC East championship. The Birds trounce Minnesota, 31-16, in their first playoff game and then upend Dallas, 20-7, to win the NFC title and a berth in Super Bowl XV. The Oakland Raiders prevail in that game, however, 27-10. Ron Jaworski leads the NFC in passing rating with a mark of 90.9 while throwing for 3,527 yards and 27 touchdowns. He is named NFL Player of the Year by the Maxwell Football Club and NFC Player of the Year by UPI. Jaworski plays in the Pro Bowl along with nose guard Charlie Johnson, strong safety Randy Logan and Carmichael, whose NFL receiving streak is snapped at 127 games when he fails to catch a pass in the regular season finale at Dallas after sustaining a first half back injury.
- 1981 The Eagles post a 10-6 record and appear in the playoffs for the fourth consecutive year. After building a 6-0 record early in the season, the Birds struggle in their final eight games and are upset in the NFC wildcard game by the New York Giants, 27-21. The Birds' defense ranks first in the NFL in yardage allowed (4,447), and points allowed (221). On offense, Harold Carmichael enjoys the third 1,000 yard receiving year of his career and Wilbert Montgomery rushes for 1,402 yards. Pro Bowl Eagles are cornerback Roynell Young, linebackers Frank LeMaster and Jerry Robinson, tackle Jerry Sisemore and nose guard Charlie Johnson for the third time.

Things to Look For in 1982

- Wilbert Montgomery needs 766 rushing yards to surpass Steve Van Buren and become the leading career rusher in Eagles' history. Van Buren's club record is 5,860 yards. Montgomery also needs 200 carries to surpass Van Buren's career record of 1,320.
- Harold Carmichael enters the 1982 season ranking 9th on the all-time NFL pass receiving list with 516 career catches. Ranking immediately ahead of Carmichael and within reach in '82 are Bobby Mitchell (521), Lance Alworth (542), Lionel Taylor (567) and Harold Jackson (571). Carmichael can also extend his Eagles' club record for career receiving yardage (7,863) and career touchdown receptions (72).
- Ron Jaworski needs 10 touchdown passes to pass Norman Snead (109) as the all-time touchdown passer in Eagles' history. Jaworski needs 1,710 passing yards to pass Snead (15,672) for most passing yardage in an Eagle career. Ron also needs only 318 passing yards to reach the 15,000 mark for his NFL career.
- Wally Henry can extend his club record of 128 punt returns in a career.
- Charlie Johnson will be seeking to extend his string of consecutive appearances in the Pro Bowl to four years.
- Jerry Sisemore will try to extend his streak of 120 consecutive starts, longest among current Eagles.

THE FRITO-LAY STORY

From little children to senior citizens, nearly everyone in Philadelphia loves pretzels in all of their various shapes and sizes. The market researchers of Frito-Lay, Inc. discovered that fact a few years ago when they found that the Delaware Valley's seven million people, while representing only three percent of the nation's population, consumed fully 20 percent of the nation's pretzel production. They also learned that pretzels and another favorite, potato chips, constituted more than 77 percent of the Philadelphia area's total snack sales. Clearly this was great news for Frito-Lay and eventually for the Eagles' favorite charity, Eagles Fly for Leukemia and its primary beneficiary, the local Children's Hospital.

Armed with their impressive research statistics and with a desire to increase their identity and share of the local market, Frito-Lay officials approached the Eagles in 1975 with a unique concept: for each touchdown scored by the team during the 1975 season, Frito-Lay would contribute $500 to Eagles Fly for Leukemia. At that rate, an immediate $33,500 was generated for Children's Hospital after one season. Impressive as that figure was, it was only the beginning.

By 1977, Frito-Lay had revised the contribution system and began to donate $100 for each POINT scored by the Eagles, thus recognizing points after touchdown, field goals and even the occasional safety in their accounting. That decision meant a total of $68,200 for the 1977-78 seasons. The 1979 contribution of $51,000 was, up to that time, a new one season record but one that would soon be bettered.

In 1980, on their way to the NFC championship and Super Bowl XV, the Eagles exploded for a club record 384 points in the regular season, 98 points in the pre-season and 61 in the three post-season contests. All of that scoring amounted to a record total of $60,500, including the traditional $200 for each point scored in three confrontations with Dallas, the headquarters city of Frito-Lay, Inc.

Last year Frito-Lay topped the $50,000 mark for the third time with a contribution of $51,900, bringing their total to a whopping $271,900 since 1975.

"The program has been incredibly successful for Frito-Lay and for the people of Philadelphia," says Charles Suscavage, the company's director of public relations. "Working with Children's Hospital, our employees have become better people and that benefits not only Frito-Lay but also the city of Philadelphia.

"It's a program where everyone wins, the Eagles, the hospital, the city, Frito-Lay, but most of all, the kids. And really, isn't that what it's all about?"

Helping children is the obvious core of Frito-Lay's continued involvement with Eagles Fly for Leukemia. Dr. Audrey Evans, director of oncology at Children's Hospital, points to the institution's 12-bed oncology unit on the 6th floor and the 9th floor lab complex as two specific results of Eagles Fly and Frito-Lay contributions. "We couldn't have done it without them," says Dr. Evans. "Now that these two main projects are completed, I suspect that the money from now on will continue to support the bone marrow transplant program. We do about 25 of them a year and they are very expensive."

Dr. Evans doesn't have to say that they are also very necessary. The Eagles and Frito-Lay remain committed to guaranteeing that no child will be denied the procedure because of the expenses involved. For everyone concerned, that is the beauty of the entire program.

When the Eagles scored a 52-10 victory at St. Louis last season, Bill Baron of Frito-Lay, Inc., visited coach Dick Vermeil's television show to present a Frito-Lay check in the amount of $5,200 to the Eagles Fly for Leukemia campaign. Representing $100 a point, it was the largest single contribution by Frito-Lay in the seven years of their involvement with the Eagles' charity.

MEDIA INFORMATION

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS: News media representatives on assignment who have not been issued season press credentials should request single game credentials in advance by writing or calling the Eagles' Public Relations Department, Veterans Stadium, Philadelphia, Pa. 19148 (phone: 215-463-2500). Credentials reserved in advance can be picked up at the Press Gate (not the Will Call Window) two hours before the scheduled kickoff. Members of the media who regularly cover a visiting team should arrange to acquire their credentials through the team's PR department.

PRESS BOXES: The Eagles maintain three press boxes, designated A, B, and C on the 4th level of Veterans Stadium. Admission to the press box area is strictly limited to those individuals holding credentials issued by the Eagles' Public Relations Department. No other media identification cards will be honored. Telecopier terminal service can be arranged through Jim McGettigan at 215-446-0525 or Don Schwartz at 215-224-3204. With the exception of field photographers (see below), all news media should enter the press gate (Spectrum side of stadium) and take the elevator to the 4th level.

TELEPHONES: Game day telephones at an assigned seat can be ordered by calling the Bell Telephone representative at 215-466-2163 or 215-271-0010.

TELEVISION AND RADIO: Network television and visiting radio facilities are located on the 4th level between press boxes A and B. Network TV credentials can be obtained through the network game producer while visiting radio credentials will be issued through the visiting team's PR man unless other arrangements have been made in advance.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Sideline credentials for field photographers are issued by the Eagles' Public Relations Department only. Space limitations make it impossible to accredit freelance photographers who are not on specific assignment by a recognized sports or news publication. Sideline credentials must be reserved at least five days in advance of the game and can be picked up at the press gate. Photographers should take the elevator to the 1st (field) level where special identifying arm bands are issued near the southwest corner off the playing field. Space on the 4th level photo deck is extremely limited and available only on a reserved basis. All field photographers are reminded that they must remain outside the bench areas and behind the broken yellow lines that surround the entire perimeter of the playing field.

LOCKER ROOMS: Admission to the home and visiting locker rooms after a game is determined by each team. There is absolutely no admission to the locker rooms before or during a game.

PRESS CLUB: Admittance to the Press Club before, during and after a game is limited to persons holding game credentials. Absolutely no one else is permitted in the dining area.

PLAYOFF INFORMATION

Selection of Clubs

1. Three division champions from each conference.
2. Two "Wild Card" clubs (non-champions with two best records) from each conference. Both wild cards may come from the same division. Clubs eliminated in Division Championship tie-breakers are eligible if their records qualify them.

Pairings and Priority

1. First Round—Wild cards play each other. Home clubs will be the clubs with the best won-lost-tied percentage in the regular season. If tied in record, apply all applicable division tie-breakers.
2. Second Round—Same as in previous years.

Division Ties

If, at the end of the regular season, two or more clubs in the same division finish with the best won-lost-tied percentage, the following steps will be taken until a CHAMPION is determined:

TWO CLUBS

1. Head-to-Head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games between the clubs).
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, if applicable.
5. Best net points in division games.
6. Best net points in all games.
7. Strength of schedule.
8. Best net touchdowns in all games.
9. Coin toss.

THREE-OR-MORE CLUBS

(Note: If two clubs remain tied after a third club is eliminated during any step, tie-breaker reverts to Step One of two-club format.)

1. Head-to-Head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games among the clubs).
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
5. Best net points in division games.
6. Best net points in all games.
7. Strength of schedule.
8. Best net touchdowns in all games.
9. Coin toss.

Wild Card Ties

If necessary to break ties to determine the two Wild Card clubs from each conference, the following steps will be taken:

1. If all the tied clubs are from the same division, apply division tie-breaker.
2. If the tied clubs are from different divisions, apply the following steps.

TWO CLUBS

1. Head to Head, if applicable.
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
4. Best net points in conference games.
5. Best net points in all games.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best net touchdowns in all games.
8. Coin toss.

THREE-OR-MORE CLUBS

(Note: If two clubs remain tied after third or other clubs eliminated, tie-breaker reverts to Step One of applicable two-club format.)

1. Head-to-Head sweep (applicable only if one club has defeated each of the others or one club has lost to each of the others).
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
4. Best net points in conference games.
5. Best net points in all games.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best net touchdowns in all games.
8. Coin toss.
